

VMX 2024: The Show of Shows

Come one, come all for the wonders, wows, and wisdom of the greatest veterinary show on Earth!

Tyler Hubbard

animal, farm animal, and exotic medicine, as well as veterinary nurse/technician skills, practice management, personal development, hands-on workshops, masterclasses, and more.

VMX Virtual will also be back with live and on-demand CE for 60 days after VMX, available as an add-on to VMX in-person registration or an exclusive pass for those who are unable to make the trip.

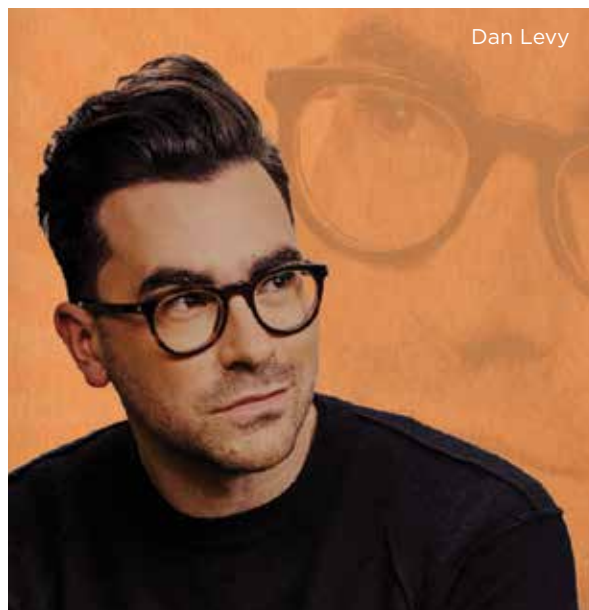

The entertainment this year will be fitting for a world's fair, with a costume party on opening night, a talent showcase where attendees will be encouraged to share a special skill, and classic carousel rides and games. Famous faces will include Dan Levy—actor, writer, producer, and director of the hit show Schitt's Creek—opening up the Saturday Kickoff and Tyler Hubbard, American singer-songwriter formerly of Florida Georgia Line, serenading attendees at the Monday night concert. New in 2024, all entertainment events will be held in the Expo Hall for added access and convenience.

As the world's leading veterinary conference, VMX may always seem like “the show of shows,” but the NAVC is taking its annual Veterinary Meeting & Expo to an entirely new level for 2024. Join thousands of your fellow veterinary professionals in Orlando, Florida, from January 13–17 and get ready to experience a world's fair—veterinary style.

VMX 2024 will offer exciting and informative exhibits and courses, an expanded layout in response to last year's record attendance numbers, and entertainment to fit the occasion. U.S.-based early-bird registrants will receive their badges via mail, offering the chance to skip the initial badge pickup line and creating shorter waits for all attendees.

Choose from over 1200 hours of continuing education and hundreds of program tracks, with something for every member of your team, including sessions on small
