

The Veterinary Innovation Summit 2024

If you're passionate about advancing innovation within the veterinary industry, join your fellow collaborators to gather, network, and strategize about the future of the industry at the NAVC's annual Veterinary Innovation Summit.

The Veterinary Innovation Summit is a hotbed of cutting-edge ideas and disruptive technologies. This annual event brings together industry leaders, visionaries, and early adopters to explore emerging trends like artificial intelligence, next-generation practices, and transformative changes that will shape the future of veterinary medicine.

Join the NAVC as it reimagines client-centric care delivery, develops innovative solutions to propel the profession forward, and cultivates future-ready leaders. Experience unparalleled networking opportunities, gain insights into veterinary industry disruptions, and be a catalyst for positive change.

Speakers at this year's Veterinary Innovation Summit include Susannah Fox, Dr. Indu Subaiya, and Dave Zabowski, with exciting sessions soon to be announced.

Register and join the NAVC and fellow collaborators in Kansas City, Missouri, from August 22 to 23 to begin your journey into the future.

Prices and registration can be found at veterinaryinnovationsummit.com.
