

Setting the Stage: VMX 2026

The World Classic veterinary conference is celebrating all gold-medalist champions of care

The NAVC's annual Veterinary Meeting & Expo (VMX) is embracing its reputation as the world's leading veterinary continuing education (CE) conference with a theme of World Classic. From January 17 to 21 in Orlando, Florida, VMX 2026 will celebrate all champions of animal care.

VMX has become the can't-miss live veterinary education conference thanks to its range and number of high-quality CE opportunities. The 2026 event will bring a wider range of educational sessions, including repeat sessions. No matter your learning level, day-to-day applications, or far-flung interests, VMX will have the education for you.

Champions don't just work hard, they play hard too. Patrick Dempsey will be the Opening Ceremony speaker on Saturday, Riley Green will rock your socks off at the Sunday night concert, and Monday night will be spent partying the night away. New for 2026: the Expo Hall will be open Saturday through Tuesday, and the closing ceremony on Wednesday will feature an exciting keynote speaker.

In case you're looking for even more unique experiences, networking opportunities, or direct engagement, VMX proudly offers Masterclasses, Meet the Professor Luncheons, Hands-on Workshops, off-site tours, and events such as the blendVET Believe and Belong in Veterinary Medicine Youth Pathway event and 5K Fun Run.
